FOUNDATIONAL 2-DAY WORKSHOP

BASIC THREAT ASSESSMENT AND MANAGEMENT IN PRACTICE

Facilitated by Molly AMMAN, JD, CTM

This 2-day workshop will offer academic and practical instruction in the fundamentals of threat assessment and management in action. Attendees will acquire knowledge in the recognition and understanding of those who pose a threat of targeted violence including warning signs of potential violence, stabilizing factors and triggers. The threat management spectrum ranging from passive to active response will be discussed. Attendees will learn about the different aspects of triage versus full assessment as a coherent action continuum. And then finally, a full case practical exercise will cap the workshop, in which attendees will apply the knowledge gained during instruction to an evolving scenario.

ADVANCED 2-DAY WORKSHOP

TERRORISM THREAT ASSESSMENT MASTERCLASS

Facilitated by Dr. Paul GILL

Through an examination of historical knowledge, case study examples and research, Dr. Gill will review why terrorism is now a problem suited to threat assessment and what management strategies may prevent violence. Over 2-days, Dr. Gill will map the terrain of what constitutes terrorism and why people turn to terrorism. With references to first-hand case studies, motivations, risk and protective factors, and red-flag behaviours associated with an escalation in an individual's likelihood of turning to violence will be explored. Attendees will have opportunity to look at terrorist decision-making in terms of target choice, hostile reconnaissance and management strategies focused on detection, disruption and disconcerting their thinking. An in-depth role-playing red-team exercise end of day two will bring the learning together.

This learning opportunity is open to all TAP members and non-members alike.
